CASES OF MUCH IMPORTANCE.

Suit of Mendon vs. New Haven Road Attracting Much Attention.

Attorney Donald G. Perkins went to Hartford yesterday to attend the supreme court of errors, which opens in that city today (Tuesday), to argue the three following cases, all of which are quite important, viz: George P.
Taylor vs. the Danielsonville Cotton company; Ferdinand Gerard vs. the Grosvendore company; and E. G.
Mondou vs. New York New Haven & Hartford R. R. Co. This last case is one that involves the constitutionality of the federal employers' liability act.
This is a test case and is of very great interest to employers. The case was argued last week by Mr. Perkins as to get an earliest decision possible from the United States supreme court, which the case will undoubtedly reach. It would have been tried here last week except illness of Mr. Kenney prevented, and the case was continued to this week at Hartford. The case is attractive attraction throughout the country. The U. S. government are so much interested that the attorney, Mr. Perkins, has asked for Mr. Perkins' brief and also asked permission to enter in the case, an unusual proceeding. Lawyer Kelly of this city is associated with Mr. Perkins in the case.

Rev. Dr. Jones spoke.

Rev. John P. Jones, D. D., of Me-dura, India, who is the guest of Mr.

REV. JAMES B. CONNELL

Preaches at Montville Baptist Church Where He Preached First Sermon 30 Years Ago.

The services held at the Baptist church in Montville on Sunday were of special interest. The Rev. James B. Connell of Hartford was present and preached morning and evening.

The occasion marking the thirtieth anniversary of the appointment to the ministry. He preached his first sermon at this church thirty years ago, and was licensed shortly afterwards to preach by the same church.

Many of the former acquaintances of Mr. Connell were present at the services and gave him a cordial greeting.

Mr. Connell at the close of the morning sermon Sunday referred briefly but tenderly to his recollections of the men and women who had faithfully served the church, but who have passed on.

Previous to the beginning of his ministry he was engaged in temperance work, and was associated with the late Hon. Elisha Palmer of Mont-ville in a vigorous and successful campaign in the state.

Mr. Connell has held pastorates in

GOING TO BRATTLEBORO.

Jacob Reid Becomes Head Gardener
on Bradley Estate.

Jacob Reid, who has been in the past eight years a resident of this city, left last week for Brattleboro, Vt., where he has accepted a position as head gardener and florist on the Bradley estate.

The place, pleasantly located on the banks of the Connecticut river, is an extensive one, employing several gardeners, making Mr. Reid's position one of responsibility.

Mr. Reid was gardener for the late Mrs. John Mitchell and while in town made many warm friends who wish him best success in his new position.

Mrs. Reid and her mother, Mrs. Minnie, left town Monday to join Mr. Reid in their new home.

Before coming to Norwich Mr. Reid was gardener for A. A. Young of Jewett City.
